Dallas Boosters are Pleased With Visit Here Last Saturday

Dallas business men who visited the city Saturday were highly elated at the reception given by the people of Canyon while the special train stopped here for an hour.

"The reception is far superior to those we received in most of the towns along the trip," stated one of the party. Transportation was furnished from the depot to town and back to the train.

Clyde W. Warwick welcomed the visitors to Canyon, telling them of the growth of the College during its 24 years, and of the celebration in October of the 25th anniversary of its founding. He told of the Museum and of the Palo Duro Park. He told the visitors that while Dallas was looked upon as the political center of Texas, the Plains was going to borrow that honor for the next four years by electing Clint Small as Governor. The reference to Senator Small brought forth hearty applause from the visitors.

During the time the visitors were here, a musical program was put on at the bandstand.

Walter Woodul On Short Visit Here Thursday p. m.

Senator Walter Woodul of Houston was a visitor in Canyon for a short time Thursday afternoon. He is a candidate for Lieutenant Governor and was on a tour of the state.

Senator Woodul is a former student of Prof. T. M. Clark. He believes firmly in the educational system of Texas, and voted that all of the institutions remain on the same basis as they now are. He has always voted for adequate appropriations for the colleges. "I want the people of Canyon to know that I am a friend of the College here," stated Senator Woodul.

Senator Woodul supported the Small land bills and other legislation which was necessary for this section of Texas.

New Telephone at Palo Duro State Park in Operation

The first telephone call over the new line to the Palo Duro State Park came from Major E. A. Kingsley to the News yesterday afternoon. Both Major Kingsley and Guy Carlander expressed to Clyde Warwick their very great appreciation to the business men of Canyon for having made this telephone line possible.

The number at the Park is 9020. The phone is located in Major Kingsley's office. Other telephones will likely be added to the line in the near future. The telephone will greatly facilitate the superintendents at the Park in their purchase of materials, and getting telegrams and long distance calls.

Miss Flora Dorris of Amarillo spent the week end visiting friends in Canyon.

CORNERSTONE OF LODGE LAID BY CHM. COLP

"Only Canyon Like Palo Duro in the United States"

COLP IS HONORED

Parks Board Pleased In Progress Made at Canyon

Praising the scenic wonders of the Palo Duro canyon as the only one of its kind in the United States, D. E. Colp laid the cornerstone of the lodge at the Palo Duro State Park Saturday afternoon. "It is the only canyon that I know of which is not located between two mountains," stated Mr. Colp. "To drive along these prairies and find this great canyon makes it all the more impressive," stated the speaker. The cornerstone was placed by Mr. Colp during the ceremony which was witnessed by a large number of citizens who have worked and planned for the establishment of the Park.

Gus Urbantke, member of the Board, told of the 72 parks in the state and what they meant to the people. "The depression made it possible for you to have this wonderful Park," sated the speaker. "Never would these camps have been established here excepting for the depression," stated Mr. Urbantke.

Mrs. Phebe K. Warner of Claude, former member of the State Parks Board, was elated over the progress made in the development of the Park. "This event makes our fondest dreams come true," stated Mrs. Warner.

Major E. A. Kingsley, superintendent of the Park, and Guy Carlander, architect of the lodge, were introduced.

George Nason, representing the National Park Service, told of the plans in developing the Park so that the beauty of the ranyon would not be destroyed. The lodge is built under the cliff in order not to be conspicuous. The main dining room will seat 600 persons. In addition there will be a club room and museum. Native stone is used in the construction.

Mayor Ross D. Rogers of Amarillo presided, and spoke of the work which had been done for the establishment of the Park. He paid tribute to the Canyon and Amarillo men who had labored so diligently for the establishment of the park.

The Amarillo high school band played several numbers during the program.

A reception was held at the Amarillo Country Club Friday night honoring members of the State

Recreation Hall Is Planned for Campus

28 Men Will Be Housed In New Hall For W. T.

Plans are under way for the erection of a recreation center for men on the campus of W. T., located east of the athletic field house.

Coach A. Baggett is sponsoring the plan, which has been taken up by President J. A. Hill and members of the Canyon Athletic Club, which is furnishing labor for a number of men in the College.

As planned, fourteen 12x14 rooms will be built in an open square, with a recreation hall in the center. The outside dimensions will be 60x70 feet. The group of rooms will accomodate 28 men.

Native stone will be used in the construction as far as possible.

Coach Baggett is working out the details of the plan for the group of rooms, and will present them to those interested in W. T. athletics. He believes that native stone may be procured by donation, and that the labor furnished through the Canyon Athletic fund will be sufficient to build the project. The recreation center is so arranged that units may be erected as funds are available.

"No effort has been made to provide a recreation center for the men in the College," states Coach Baggett. "I believe that this would be quite an inducement for athletes to come to W. T. if they are given the facilities planned."

The Buffalo T-Club will be asked to assist on the project and sponsor the erection of the main assembly hall.

It is hoped that work may start on the new project during this month and have some of the rooms ready to occupy by the opening of the fall term.

Curtis Brown Gets 60 Day Furlough to Wind Up Business

The Court of Criminal Appeals has issued a mandate for the confinement of Curtis Brown in the penitentiary. However, Governor Ferguson issued a 60 day furlough before the mandate was received by Sheriff Bob Barnett. The application for the furlough was said to be signed by 112 citizens of Randall county, including 8 members of the jury which convicted Brown in the liquor case.

The furlough will expire on July 11. At that time he will be taken to the penitentiary to begin his sentence unless the Governor takes further action. Brown is now working at Borger.

Frank Lester of El Paso came Saturday after his mother, Mrs. L. T. Lester, who accompanied him home Sunday to spend a month.

Hereford Lions on Visit With Rotary Club Tuesday Nite

Forty-three members of the Hereford Lions Club made an inter-city visit Tuesday night, giving the program of the the Canyon Rotary Club.

After a hearty welcome by Doug Shirley, Boss Lion Harvey Rice directed the program which was greatly enjoyed by the Rotarians.

Mrs. Paul Foster and Mrs. A. C. Thompson played two violin duets, accompanied by Mrs. W. J. Stanford.

W. J. Stanford made a short talk telling of the friendly relations which existed between Canyon and Hereford. He urged that the two clubs get together often in order to know each other better.

Miss Katherine Kirby gave two readings.

Dr. G. W. Heard made a talk on citizenship. He called attention to the low ebb of citizenship in America today, which calls for a strong central government. This low ebb was brought about through laziness and indifference on the part of the people toward their government. "Those in office should be told what the people think and want," stated the speaker. He called for a revival of American ideals, and to rebuild the government according to the Golden Rule.

Mrs. Polly Wiltshire sang two solos.

A. C. Thompson closed the program by expressing the appreciation of the Lions for the invitation to visit the Canyon Rotary Club.

Those from Hereford were: C. C. Acker, Gaston Baer, Mont Baker, G. W. Brumley, H. A. Close, J. T. Cronin, Ike Crosthwait, W. L. Davis, C. H. Dillehay, E. L. Donner, Voline Downs, L. H. Foster, A. A. C. Parker, John Patton, R. E. Perkins, J. M. Posey, H. L. Rice, J. W. Robinson, J. W. Robinson, W. J. Smith, Ralph Smith, R. H. Sewell, W. J. Stanford, A. H. Strew, A. C. Thompson, Jack Wayland, B. ### WILL START WORK AS BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

The Commissioners Court will start work next Monday sitting as a Board of Equalization. The oath was taken at the regular monthly meeting Monday by the members to sit at this hearing.

RICH MAN, POOR MAN . . .

Yes, We Have No Mosquitoes

In one instance, army orders were disobeyed so far as Captain Cecil Stiles is concerned. Captain Stiles is senior officer at the Palo Duro State Park, and in this capacity was ordered to send to Fort Sill a mosquito which would be tested in the medical laboratory to see what matter of germs the insect might be carrying to the men in the camp.

After three weeks' search, Captain Stiles was forced to report the presence of no mosquitoes at the Palo Duro State Park.

It is likely that few CCC camps in the Southwest will make a report of no mosquitoes in the area served by the army.

Relief Committee Goes to Washington About Roads

The State Relief Commission has sent Houston Harte of San Angelo, Julius Dorenfield, Jr., of Amarillo, and Earle P. Adams of Austin to Washington in regard to the special drouth relief appropriation which was made for the Panhandle last year.

Mr. Dorenfield protested at the Monday's meeting that road work was being held up. The State Administrator claimed that authority was lacking to proceed with the work in spite of the repeated advice from Washington that it was clearly up to the state board.

The Monday's meeting was recessed until next week when the committee of three will return and make a report as to the standing of the special relief fund.

It was announced last week from the state relief office that plans would be ready for the road work to start this week.

Twenty Volumes on Roosevelt Donated To C. H. S. Library

Athalee Overton donated a set of twenty volumes of "Theodore Roosevelt's Writings" to the Canyon High School Library Monday.

The books deal largely with Roosevelt's adventures as an explorer, his state papers and affairs during his administration. Many addresses made during the presidency are included. Four volumes deal with the "Winning of the West."

The students of Canyon high school wish to take this method of extending their appreciation for the books, which will prove useful to the future American history students in their study of Roosevelt.

Bridge Over Tierra Blanca Will be Completed During Week

The bridge over Tierra Blanca creek will be completed during this week if favorable weather continues stated Resident Engineer E. H. Gohmert yesterday.

If men are available from the relief office, he will be able to fill in at the ends of this bridge and the one over Timber Creek during the coming two weeks, and open the Goodnight Trail for traffic to the Park.

Mr. Gohmert hopes that money will be available to complete the caliche on the east end of the road and to top all of the road early in the summer. So far no plan has been definitely devised whereby this work may be completed.

Mr. Gohmert has resigned his position with the State Highway department and will leave for Yorktown on June 1st where he will be associated with his father in the hardware business.

The Literary Digest is making a national poll for the purpose of determining President Roosevelt's standing with the people. The Digest has engaged in many such popular polls, and strange enough, the returns on these polls have usually proven the trend of events. However, the present poll causes one to stop and ponder; is the popularity of the President on the wane, or is this method used to reassure the people that the President has completely sold his program to the nation? Many of the recovery acts are not working out as successfully as the President would like to see. But that is no reason for condemning him for making the effort, and starting the program he believed necessary for recovery. The average man feels that he is more than a success if he is right half of the time. The President has started too many things the past year not to have made many, many mistakes. But the mistakes are no reason to condemn the agressiveness of the President in putting on the recovery program.

Wholesale gambling has swept the country to such an extent that large firms have posted notices that any employe will be discharged who participate in gambling. The people have been living under such strained circumstances the past few years, that gambling looks like an easy way out. Many of the states have legalized horse race gambling; beer has been legalized in practically all of the states; bootleggers are flourishing more than before the repeal of the 18th amendment. All of this is inducive to gambling. Even the professional gamblers and the conscientious anti-prohibitionists are alarmed at the extent to which the lawless element is going in the present spree of personal freedom. They realize that the pendulum will swing in the other direction one of these days, and wipe out present legalized evils for all time.

Those who have watched the wheat crop of the Southwest have realized for several weeks that the mill men were exaggerating the possible yield for this year. Of course the mill men want to brag about a big yield in prospect in order that the price will stay low. The continued drouth has cut the wheat so that the Plains section will hardly raise more than enough wheat for re-seeding purposes. This is not good news for the consumers, but it is something over which governmental agencies have no control.

Visitors who have been down state return with the report that Senator Clint Small is gaining rapidly in strength in his campaign for Governor. Even those few Panhandle people who are not supporting Senator Small have returned with the definite idea that the Senator will be in the second primary. The Dallas delegation here Saturday expressed the belief that Senator Small was gaining rapidly all over East Texas where the voters are lookin for a safe, sane leader.

Just as we expected, nothing doing on the relief road program for the Panhandle. The State Relief Commission decided that three members of that body would have to make a trip to Washington. In spite of the fact that a full agreement had been reached in Washington, and orders were given for the work to proceed, the State Relief Administrator has refused to take the necessary action in getting the work under way.

"Get rid of the stray dogs," is the appeal being made by scores of Canyon people who are urging that all strays be killed at once. Several women have reported the destruction of their flower beds by these stray dogs.

The old-time country storekeeper was a good judge of human nature. He had to be. He got many requests for goods on credit and he needed to know—and usually did know—when to say "yes" and when not to.

Modern banking, despite advanced bookkeeping and adding machines, is a human business, too. To protect his depositors, a good banker relies on not one but several sets of dependable factors when considering a loan.

But, if he is wise, he looks beyond what mere statistics tell him. He learns to size up his man. He makes it a point to know as much as he can about his applicant's ability, energy, integrity and sense of responsibility. For figures may occasionally mask the truth. You can't juggle human nature.

PROCESSED COTTAGE CHEESE
Sadie Kate Bass

Take 3 gallons of separated milk when it is curdled. Heat to temperature of 100 degrees F. stirring most of the time. This makes the ordinary cottage cheese. Hold at this temperature for 30 minutes and continue stirring. Squeeze drier than customary for cottage cheese. Take ½ cup butter, salt to taste (about ½ tsp.), 1 tbsp. soda and mix thoroughly into the cottage cheese. Let stand 2 hours. Add 1 cup sweet cream and put all into a double boiler and heat while cooking until a smooth consistency has been formed. Remove from the fire and add ½ cup of sweet or sour cream to which has been added cheese coloring as desired (about ¼ to ½ tsp.) Beat until smooth and turn into buttered dish to mold.

This complete process must be finished within one day. The cheese should season for about 5 days. It may be covered with paraffin wax to be kept. This cheese is mild flavored and needs an added flavor. Pimientoes, caraway seed or a small amount of strong cheese melted and added give a good flavor.

STRAWBERRY HINTS
Mrs. W. H. Bessire

Strawberries can be kept fresh and handy to use for icings, short cakes, bavarian creams, ice creams or other frozen or molded desserts, or sauces for one week or two weeks in any refrigerator, and a month or more in an electric refrigerator if they are well mashed and mixed with plenty of granulated sugar (equal quantity or more) and kept in fruit jars—thus extending our short strawberry season.

Here's Chic Cape for the Capable Miss

INEXPENSIVE AND EASY TO MAKE, THIS EYE-FILLING MODEL PERMITS YOU TO ADAPT YOUR OWN COLOR IDEAS

BY HARRIET

DRESSY capes and matching hats or turbans of sheer, transparent velvet are all the rage right now. If you want to be economical and, at the same time, have individual color schemes that harmonize with your own afternoon gown, why not make your own capelet?

You can buy the transparent velvet in any 5-and-10 cent store. Since it takes only 4½ yards of 2 inch velvet ribbon, 3 yards of 1½ inch velvet ribbon, and 1½ yards of maline for a foundation, you can see just how inexpensive the finished capelet will be. The directions are quite simple, too. Here they are:

Step 1. Cut each of the following widths of maline: 1 piece 1½ yards long, 12 inches wide; 1 piece 1½ yards long, 5 inches wide; 1 piece 1½ yards long, 4½ inches wide, and 1 piece 1½ yards long, 2½ inches wide.

Step 2. Sew piece of 1½ inch ribbon along the edge of the 2½ inch maline so that edge of maline is about in center of the ribbon. Sew piece of 1½ inch ribbon to 5 inch piece of maline. Sew piece of 2 inch ribbon to 4½ inch strip of maline.

Step 3. Sew two 2 inch pieces of ribbon to the 12 inch strip of maline, having the wrong side of one piece of ribbon on the same side as the right side of the other piece of ribbon.

Step 4. Sew the 2½ inch wide piece of maline and the 12 inch piece together ½ inch from the top of the wrong side piece which you sewed on in step 3.

Step 5. Turn the ½ inch of ribbon over at the top to make a fold at the neck and gather to measure 26 inches.

Step 6. Sew piece of maline 4½ inches wide to 12 inch piece of maline so that the top of the maline's edge comes under velvet ribbon on the 2½ inch piece. Sew the 5 inch strip of maline to the 12 inch piece under the velvet of the 4½ inch piece.

Step 7. Make bow out of 1½ yards of 2 inch ribbon, having long ends and loops about 3 inches long. Tack bow to one side of the center back of the cape. Fasten cape together with snapper hook or hook and eye.

This charming capelet and matching braided tiara, of sheer, transparent velvet, amply reward a few hours spent with the needle.

• • •

IF you wish to make the matching braided tiara, which is simply grand for evening, you'll need 1½ yards of inch velvet ribbon and one head band to fit your own head.

Cover head band with velvet ribbon by turning end of ribbon over end of band and then sewing selvages of ribbon together to make a seam on inside of head band. Turn up at other end of band and fasten to make a neat finish.

Step 2. Cut off piece of ribbon 4½ inches long for crescent back of head band. Then cut remaining piece of ribbon in three equal parts and sew to band about 2 inches from end of frame on the outer edge.

Step 3. Braid ribbon together and sew to other edge of band 2 inches from end. Tack braid at lower edge of head band together. Finish over ends of braid with a narrow band of ribbon.

Step 4. Make a small crescent-shaped piece of stiff paper or material about 4 inches long and ¾ inch high at center and cover with ribbon. Sew to back and across top of head band to make braid stand up.

The Rabbit Ball May Be Lively for Some, but It Just Lies Down and Plays Dead for Warneke and Hubbell

BY PHILIP MARTIN

THE lively ball may have had effect on some National League pitchers, but Lon Warneke and Carl Hubbell don't notice any difference.

Warneke has been more effective with the jittery pellet than he was with the old ball last season. His first two games of the season were one-hit affairs, and that's pitching, mates, with any old ball.

Hubbell's screw ball seems just as effective as it ever was. He is going just as hot with the new sphere as with the deader pill—and so are his mates, Fred Fitzsimmons and Hal Schumacher.

Batters in the old loop have been benefited greatly by the new ball. They're hitting longer clouts, and getting more one-base blows by virtue of the funny antics the rabbit sphere takes when it bounces, thus evading the grasping hands of infielders.

The National Leaguers are leading their American brethren in home run swats with the same ball that the younger loopers have been playing with for years. That is one argument siding with the contention that the old league hitters are more potent with the stick than members of the junior league.

• • •

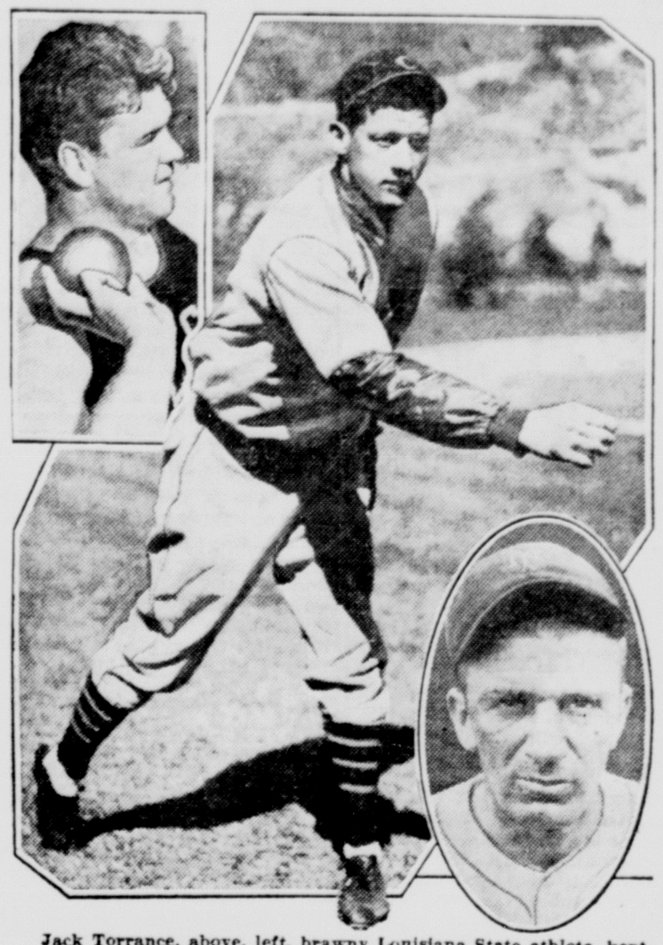
JACK TORRANCE'S performance in the Drake Relays recalls a promise he made last summer. The Louisiana State giant shot putter said he would shoot over 55 feet with the 16-pound iron ball before the 1934 track season was over.

Just to make good, Jack stepped out and heaved the sphere 55 feet 1½ inches, besting the old world mark by nearly two feet.

• • •

HERE and there:

Joe Hauser, who set a new home run record by hitting 69 for the Minneapolis Millers in the American Association last season, can't catch on in the big leagues because of an injured knee cap suffered while a member of the Philadelphia Athletics some years ago. . . . Joe has started out after a new record, having hit an average of one homer a day for the first 13 days of the present season. . . . Andy Kerr is trying out a 12-man football team at Colgate this spring. . . . The extra man takes no active part in carrying the ball or tackling . . . but watches each play and makes suggestions for offense and defense. . . . The mast stepped in the English America's Cup challenger, Endeavor, is 167 feet high. . . . The British Amateur golf championship gets under way May 21 . . . and it will be won by George Dunlap, the American youngster who just missed last year . . . losing to Michael Scott, the 55-year-old English veteran, in the semi-final round.



Jack Torrance, above, left, brawny Louisiana State athlete, kept a promise made last summer when he heaved the shot put 55 feet 1½ inches for a new world record. Judging from their work so far this season, Lon Warneke, center, and Carl Hubbell, right, don't seem to mind the rabbit ball at all. But it minds them.

W. T. High School Will Hold Closing Program on May 30

W. T. High School is to have a Socializezd Commencement this year.

Miss Jennie C. Ritchie, Dean of the high school, has long been weary of the common type of graduation exercises, in which a few members of the class carry off all the glory, and this year determined to remedy matters. # THE EAGLE'S TALE

VOLUME NO. 8 CANYON, TEXAS MAY 17, 1934. NUMBER 35

I have a little suggestion to make to Dora Mae Plaster concerning the senior play Friday night. If she really wanted to get a laugh out of the audience she should have hit Ernest Duncan in the face with the dough, instead of the window; but what I thought was the funniest thing in the play was Dan's refusing Marion's offer of that $500 check. Now he's a boy with back-bone, I'll tell you. He's one in a million that would turn it down. Speck, why don't you raise you a little mustache? I think its becoming because it hides some uv your freckles.

Speakin' uv freckles, you oughta be ashamed of yourself willing Bill Price your freckles. I don't think she could use 'em. She told me confidentially that she'd been looken' her face over for weeks and hadn't found a place to put her new freckles yet.

Saturday in town Virginia Burgan bought her a new organdie dress to wear to church. Sunday morning the weather was so cold that she had to put on her red flannels. She started to go ahead and wear her organdie dress, but the red sleeves of her flannels did not look so hot sticking out from under her green organdie, short sleeves. Virginia stated that even if it didn't look so hot, it was.

This is my last time to take any space in the Canyon News. That's really sad, cause I'll not be seein' you kids for a coupla or more months, you know. Luck to you this summer—you might need it when you start to drown, or when one of those big fish start to pull you and your fishing pole in. I'm jst takin' "fer granit" that you'll spend the summer on the creek jest like I'm goin' to.

Agriculture Class Spends Week-end at Methodist Camp

The agriculture class, under the direction of Mr. A. L. Jones, left the high school at 3:00 Friday afternoon and went to the Methodist encampment where they spent the week end.

They arrived at the encampment about 4:30 and left the truck at the first falls. Some of the boys hiked to the fourth falls while the others prepared supper. The supper which consisted of bologna sandwiches, pickles, hot coffee, marshmallows and apples was served about 8:00.

After supper the boys hiked back to the truck and got their bedding and took it to the tabernacle because it looked so much like rain, but after the rain clouds disappeared, they took their bedding about a mile down the creek to make camp, so that they could make all the noise they wanted to.

Some of the boys went swimming about 9:00 o'clock, but soon returned, and the whole class sat around the campfire, wrestled, and told jokes until 10:30 and then went to bed. Nobody except Mr. Jones slept until about 3:00 a. m. because some of the boys persisted in throwing cold water and pulling cover.

They arose at 5:00 o'clock Saturday morning and prepared breakfast which consisted of bologna and egg sandwiches, hot coffee, and pickles for those who desired them for breakfast.

They swam and hiked until about 9:30 and then returned to town.

Those who made the trip were: Mr. A. L. Jones, Edd Brooks, Ralph Rusk, Ray Ford Rusk, Jack Middleton, Herschell Burrus, Nelson Robinson, Tom Harris, Raymond Harris, Scott Downing, Herbert Mariner, Phillip Whitman, Benson Clounch, C. L. Drummond, Emil Olson, R. E. Prichard, and Forest Hill.

Home Economics Girls Give Children Party

"She tasted the middle bowl of soup and it was too cold. Then she tasted the little bowl of soup and it was just right, so she ate it all."

Now if you think Freshmen Home Economics girls can't tell stories, you should have attended the party given for children, between the ages of two and six years old, last Monday afternoon. They certainly can play "Froggy in the Middle," too.

Twelve children attended the party given by the Home Ec. I girls who are studying "Child Care and Training." First the children played "Froggy in the Middle," under the direction of several of the girls. It was quite amusing to watch every child, who had the opportunity to hide, slip behind the screen. Thus every time the "froggy" had slipped away, all of the guests would run to the screen for, inevitably, the "froggy" was hidden there.

Next the guests played "Drop the Handkerchief." Some of the children would stand in the circle, apparently in having the handkerchief dropped behind them. When it was some of the two year olds, they would say, "I don't want to run." Others participated in the games, and seemed very interested.

Next they were told two stories: One was the "Three Bears," and the other was "Mother's Birthday Gift." Right in the middle of the stories, some smart child would pipe up, "I saw a cow one time," or "The bear I saw was black."

The refreshments were fruit punch, sandwiches, and cookies.

This party served as much entertainment to the Home Ec. girls as it did the guests.

GOODBYE FOREVER, C. H. S.

For 11 years the present seniors have longed for the month of May to come. Now that it is here we seniors are not quite so glad as we thought. When we think of getting into higher things, it is quite nice. But when it comes to leaving Canyon High and when it comes to the fact that we are supposed to start growing up now, it really isn't so nice. Now if we could take all of our college work up at dear old Canyon High it would be "O. K."

MAN-MADE depressions may come and go, but Mother Nature continues to heap troubles on American farmers.

Along with pleasant rumors of bigger and better farm relief and higher commodity prices come disturbing predictions of another sort. Farmers are being warned by the government that their crops are in danger.

An early siege of the dreaded "Mormon crickets," which feast on the wheat crops of the upper Mississippi valley and the midwest, is expected momentarily. Warm weather during the winter months kept away the frosts which usually kill the eggs of these crickets.

Eight midwestern states have prepared for an unusually heavy grasshopper invasion. At any time, these insects are one of the deadliest menaces to American agriculture, but the Department of Agriculture predicts that this year's grasshopper will be a more hardy and dangerous type than that of previous years.

The campaign against other pests goes on apace. Uncle Sam is spending yearly around $2,000,000 fighting Japanese beetles, fruit flies, corn-borers, cotton boll weevils, chinch bugs, potato beetles, moths, grubs, gypsy moths, and 6000 other kinds of parasites.

One of the most insidious pests is the wood-destroying termite, or "white ant," which robs farmers of homes, barns, and cattle shelters.

By importing from abroad foreign insects which dine on our domestic parasites, the government is carrying on a "bug eat bug" campaign to stop these scourges.

Chemicals sprayed from airplanes, and traps which lure and electrocute the pests, are among other novel methods used by Uncle Sam in defending his crops.

ANOTHER serious problem that confronts farmers, and one which has become exceptionally grave in recent years, is that of dust storms.

Following severe drouths in recent years, these storms have brought devastation to many farms in Kansas, the Dakotas, and other midwestern states.

In that district, the topsoil in many places is fairly thin. A long dry spell turns this topsoil into loose, ashy grit. A severe wind—a byproduct of the drouth—arises, and—p r e s t o !—many midwestern farmers find their wheat has literally blown away.

Topsoil picked up by a fierce and mischievous wind is blown into the next county; even into the next state.

In the "Great Dustfall of 1920," 2,000,000 tons of Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas, and Nebraska soil were lifted thousands of feet, carried eastward by a terrific windstorm, and deposited in the region of the Great Lakes.

It fell in the form of dust particles during a snowstorm that lasted only two days! Picture a freight train of 40,000 cars, each of 50 tons capacity, all loaded with dust, and you have an idea of the enormous quantity of grit that fell in that two-day storm.

And the worst of this evil is that farmers can do little about it but hope and pray for rain to come.

Assistant Named For Coach Baggett

Duke Star and Former Baggett Pupil to W. T.

Bob Cox, nationally famous fullback of Duke University, was announced yesterday as assistant coach of the Buffaloes to aid Coach Al Baggett.

Cox was captain of the first two teams that Amarillo College had in 1930 and 1931. He went to Duke in the spring of 1932 and immediately became fullback on the varsity football team. He proved a sensation his first year with his passing, and his line plunges. At the close of the 1932 season he was characerized as "one of the best line-cracking fullbacks ever to perform in the Southern Conference."

Last year he continued his performance as high scorer in the Southern Conference championship. His 69 points gained by eleven touchdowns and three extra points also gave him fourth high scoring honors in the nation. Cox was named on the North Carolina all-state team; the all-South Atlantic team; was voted almost unanimously the fullback post on the all-Southern Conference team; and was given honorable mention on the all-American team. His Merit Card certifying his all-American rating and signed by Christy Walsh of the all-American Board of Football is in the possession of Coach Baggett.

Previous to his two years under Coach Baggett at Amarillo College, Cox had served one year at Vernon high school, and one year at Wichita Falls Junior College under the tutelage of Baggett. Thus he is thoroughly grounded in Baggett's system of football, and will be able to help Coach Baggett get that system firmly established at Weest Texas.

In a personal letter to Coach Baggett, Wallace Wade says of Bob: "During the time he has been here he has made a most outstanding record as an athlete, student, and a thoroughly dependable gentleman. I do not believe that I have ever coached a player who has taken his duties more seriously or studied the game more closely than Cox has. I am certain that he will be a fine influence over any young man he comes in contact with, and any institution will be very fortunate in having Bob Cox as a member of its staff."

Mrs. Herschel Coffee and baby daughter came home from the hospital Monday.

Archaeology Added to W. T. Work By Board of Regents

A chair of archaeology will be established at the West Texas State Teachers College, according to a decision made by the State and Floyd V. Studer of Amarillo, best known archaeologist and paleontologist of Northwest Texas, will be director of the work which will be done in the Panhandle field.

Regent J. E. Hill, of Amarillo, has made a study of the possibilities of valuable work in this subject and he showed the value of the new undertaking to other members of the board.

President J. A. Hill, who returned from Austin this morning expressed his delight that the Board had taken this action which will mean so much to the Canyon College and to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum.

Dr. Hill also announced that the Board of Regents had approved his budget for the coming biennium and stated that he asked for no buildings and for only minor improvements.

The State Board of Teachers College Regents will hold its summer meeting at Canyon, August 10 and 11, on which occasion Mr. Studer will take the members to a site of ruins of a prehistoric civilization. All presidents of Texas Teachers Colleges will be here also to confer with the Board.

Palo Duro Water Colors Display at Museum Art Room

A new exhibit, the work of Douthitt Wilson, artist of Palo Duro State Park, working under the direction of Dr. John Ankeney is now hung in the gallery of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum, and may be seen for the next week.

There are eighteen pictures, all water-colors, all of which have been painted by the talented Dallas artist since he came to the camp at Palo Duro State Park about two months ago. He explained that the pictures he considered best had already been sent to Dr. Ankeney for his approval.

Fifteen of the pictures are landscapes. Wilson has worked to secure fine tonal quality, the distance and depth of the chasm. Some of the painting are especially interesting for the way the geological formations are made clear to the observer.

The three paintings of figures show the men at work and during their recreational hours, two of them depicting the camp orchestra and listeners.

Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the art department of the College hung the exhibit. She states that it is very interesting and that the artist has succeeded in a remarkable degree in getting the effects he is working for. Mr. Wilson discussed his paintings before the advanced painting class of the college, showing himself to be a splendidly informed artist. He expects to continue his study of Palo Duro State Park coloring for some time.

Buffaloes Win In Mud Battle With Aggies on Friday

(By R. L. Burnam)

A saturating rain washed the polish and smoothness off the spring football game last Friday night, but it didn't put out the fire of the Buffaloes' attack, and the West Texas State Teachers College eleven splashed out a 19 to 6 victory over the Panhandle A. & M. Aggies of Goodwell, Okla.

Show Power and Drive

The Buffs showed a lot of power and drive, a line that held the running attack of the Aggies to small yardage gains, and plenty of pep and ginger.

While the play was marred by many fumbles, due to the slippery pigskin, it disclosed the Buffaloes a team to be reckoned with next fall.

Score in Second Quarter

After muffing a couple of chances to score early in the game, the Buffs drove from their 49 yard line to score in the first five minutes of the second quarter, Holston making the score standing up after a beautiful run of 17 yards. Teague's place-kick was good.

The next counter came in the third period when the Herd blocked a punt after they had held the Aggies within the 10 yard line. The punt was blocked and the touch scored by Meek, giant Buff tackle. Holston's place-kick for extra point was wide.

Williamson Scores

On the kick-off following the Buffs' second touch, the Aggies fumbled the slippery sphere, West Texas recovering on the Aggies' 35. Williamson scored after a drive that battered the Aggie tackle to pieces. An attempt to place-kick for extra point was sunk in the mud.

The Aggies could not dent the big Buff line, but they did back the Buffs up against their goal line and block a punt to score their touchdown early in the fourth quarter.

The farmer boys completed three long passes, the least one good for 15 yards, to reach the inside of the Buffaloes's five yard line where West Texas recovered a fumble and then tried, unsuccessfully, to punt out, resulting in the visitors' score. A pass was good in the try for extra point, but the Ags were offside and the next attempt was lost in a puddle of water.

Offense Is Good

On the offense, Holston and Teague were the most consistent ground gainers for the Buffs, while Weaver's and Sandefer's blocking was influential in the former couple's long gains. Leop and Loudder were the main offensive cogs in the Aggie machine. Walker, Rankin, Meek and Cain were the defense strongholds of the W. T. eleven.

This game closed a nine weeks' period of spring training for the Buffs. Judging from the results of this training, the Baggettmen are going to be hard to beat next fall.

Pioneer of Thrifty Flying?

This midget plane, built by V. W. Payne, former army aviation instructor, is said to be the answer to economy flying. Payne claims this "Knight Twister" can attain a speed of 120 miles an hour, using only three gallons of gas an hour at that speed. It weighs only 400 pounds, is 11½ feet long, with a 15-foot wing spread; and is powered by a nine-cylinder French Salmson motor.
